1984-85 Outlook

After a return trip to the NCAA Tournament and a school record 25-wins, it's rebuilding time for the Morehead State basketball program. Seven seniors are gone and ten new faces have been added to start the rebuilding process.

The last two basketball seasons at Morehead State have produced 44 wins against 17 losses and two straight NCAA Tournament appearances, including a tournament win against North Carolina A&T last season in the opening round of the Mid-East Regional in Dayton, Ohio. Seventh year head coach Wayne Martin is hoping that the success the program has enjoyed the last two seasons will build confidence in the 1984-85 team.

"We're very excited about the new additions to this year's team," said Martin, who was named Ohio Valley Conference Coach of the Year for the second time and Kodak District VII coach of the year, which includes a field of all Division I coaches in the states of Kentucky, Tennessee, and West Virginia. "Our tough schedule should give us some answers about our team and will help prepare us for our conference schedule."

Indeed the Eagles are faced with a rugged schedule, particularly in the early part of the season. Three of MSU's first five opponents will be road games at Oklahoma, Iowa, and Missouri. The Eagles will also have to play non-conference games at Bowling Green University, Marshall, and Western Kentucky. All totaled, MSU will be on the road 14 times during the 1984-85 season, with 12 games scheduled in the Academic-Athletic Center, plus the Marathon Oil exhibition game.

As far as personnel is concerned, MSU returns six lettermen from last year's team. 6-7 forward Pate Clements heads the list of returning players after gaining valuable playing experience as a freshman. The native of Tallahassee, Fla., averaged just 2.6 points per game but made valuable contributions to the team during its stretch run for the conference title.

Others returning include guards Michael Everett, a 6-4 senior from New York City; Tony Vance, a 6-0 sophomore from Muncie, Ind.; and Rob Barker, 6-0 junior, also of Muncie. Brian Kelly, a 6-5 junior forward, and Steve Brooks, a 6-7 center sophomore, also return.

With the loss of all five starters and the first two off the bench, the MSU coaching staff will look for immediate help from the new recruits. Heading the list of new players is 6-9 center Bob McCann, who is no stranger to the program. After transferring to MSU via Upsala College in East Orange, N.J., McCann sat out last season and is ready to get back into action. At 255-pounds McCann possesses the power to mix it up inside, and his ball-handling skills enable him to get the job done outside.

Michael Drake and Darrin Hale are the next tallest newcomers, both standing at 6-8. Drake is a forward from Camden, N.J., and was a teammate of Louisville freshman Kevin Walls. He provided strong rebounding ability, averaging 10.5 boards per game. His presence should help soften the blow of losing top rebounder Earl Harrison. Hale will provide support at the forward position. The 230-pounder is a product of Laurel County High School in London, Ky.

Another redshirt ready for action this year is Itawamba Junior College transfer Willie Feldhaus, a graduate of Mason County High School. Feldhaus is 6-6, 175 pounds, and will have three years of eligibility going into the season. Also competing for the wing position is 6-5, 184-pound freshman Roland Chadwick. The Lake Wells, Fla. native averaged 17.8 points and seven rebounds per game his senior year at Lake Wells High School.

The MSU coaching staff will have five recruits competing for playing time at the guard positions. Junior college transfer Derek Childress has the potential to aid MSU immediately. The first cousin of graduated perimeter forward Eddie Childress, the 6-4 Derek comes from Dodge City Community College, the number one juco for most of the 1983-84 season. His 10.3 points and seven assists per game will help cover the losses of Jeff Fultz and Guy Minnifield.

6-7 Kevin Simpson, the tallest guard in MSU history; 5-10 Talbert Turner, Kentucky's leading high school scorer last year with a 30.6 average; Mike Harrison, a 6-2 guard from Louisville; and Jeff Thornberry, a 6-3, 182-pound product of Clark County High School, will all push for playing time at the guard spots.

Coaching Staff

Wayne Martin Head Basketball Coach

In 1978 Wayne Martin took over as head basketball coach at Morehead State University. His goal was to build a winning basketball program. Six years, 101 wins, and two consecutive NCAA appearances later, Martin's goal is to continue the winning tradition he and his staff have established.

After accepting the position as MSU's eighth head coach he had the task of turning around a program that saw a 4-19 record accumulate during the 1977-78 season. Martin's success was instantaneous, producing 14 wins and 13 losses his first season.

No doubt the last two seasons have been the most memorable and most successful. Martin guided the Eagles back to the NCAA tournament in 1984, proving right the chant "We'll Be Back," which was heard from a large MSU contingent during the Morehead State-Syracuse first round NCAA game in Hartford, Conn., in 1983.

Martin coached the Eagles to a 25-6 record last year, the most wins in MSU history. Included in that mark was the OVC regular season championship, the OVC post-season tournament, and a first-round win in the NCAA tournament.

These accomplishments earned Martin his second Ohio Valley Conference coach of the year honor plus the Kodak District VII coach of the year award, the latter including a field of all Division I coaches in the states of Kentucky, Tennessee, and West Virginia.

Throughout the last two seasons Martin saw his team total 44 wins and 17 losses. After 10 years as a collegiate head coach, the Morehead State graduate sports a 187-100 record, including a 101-67 record the past six years at MSU. He has also reached the 100-win plateau faster than any other head basketball coach in Morehead State University history.

The success that Martin has enjoyed at MSU has earned him a new four-year contract. It marks the first time a head coach at MSU has been given a contract beyond one year.

Martin's association with excellence in sports began at an early age, during his playing days in Winchester, Ky., for Clark County (now George Rogers Clark) High School.

A three-year letterman in basketball, he attained all-district and honorable mention all-state status twice and was an All-Mid-State Conference and all-region selection one year. He captained the squad his final two years.

Clark County won three district basketball championships, finishing as regional runner-up Martin's junior year. Clark County advanced to the Sweet 16 of the Kentucky State Tournament his senior year.

A four-year letterman in golf, Martin also captained the linkmen and was a three-time all-conference choice. He led the opening round of the Kentucky State High School Tournament in 1963, finishing in the top ten. Still an avid golfer, Martin enjoys playing in local tournaments as well as outings with the Eagle Athletic Fund.

Martin signed with MSU, earning four letters in golf and one freshman and one varsity letter in basketball. He once held the school record of 66 for 18 holes with the Eagle golf team. He averaged 15.0 points per game as a freshman on the basketball team.

In his junior year at Morehead State, Martin served as assistant basketball coach at MSU's University Breckinridge High School. He remained in that capacity with Breck until earning his bachelor's degree from MSU in 1968.

His success as an assistant at Breck helped Martin land the head coaching position at Pikeville (Ky.) High School. He took over the reins of a program which had staggered to a 4-21 record the year before his appointment.

He turned the program around quickly, guiding the school to four district championships and two regional runner-up finishes, ending his tenure in the high school ranks with an 82-56 record.

The next stop was Pikeville College, where Martin once again undertook the task of turning a flagging program around.

Within four seasons, Martin had taken the Bears from a 7-17 record to three consecutive Kentucky Intercollegiate Conference titles and appearances in the NAIA national tournament, twice receiving KIAC Coach of the Year honors.

Prior to coming to MSU, Martin spent one year as an assistant coach under former MSU assistant Lake Kelly at Oral Roberts University.

Their association has produced a solid winning foundation, as evidenced by NCAA appearances the last two years, and the school's first outright league championship.

"Any time a staff remains intact over a period of time in a particular program, you have an opportunity to achieve some goals," said McCoy. "Being with Coach Martin for 10 years, four at Pikeville College and six at MSU, we have set goals in each program and so far we have been fortunate enough to realize our goals and dreams as a coaching staff."

A native of Elkhorn City, Ky., McCoy was a student assistant for two years and a full-time assistant for one year at Pikeville. Recipient of a bachelor's degree from Pikeville in 1977, he earned a master's degree from MSU in 1981.

Craig Morris Assistant Coach

After serving as part-time coach last year Craig Morris begins his first season as full-time assistant coach at Morehead State.

A native of DeGraff, Ohio, Morris lettered in basketball two years at Indiana University under Bobby Knight, coach of the 1984 Olympic basketball champions, before transferring to MSU.

He was captain for two years at Morehead State and received his bachelor's degree in industrial education in 1977. He also holds a master's degree from MSU.

Craig will be in charge of coordinating and organizing the eagle recruiting efforts, and will work extensively on defense with this year's team.

"I am very excited about the expanded use of Craig's talents and energy," said head coach Wayne Martin.

At 31, Morris has developed a coaching philosophy that has been influenced by highly reputable people in the coaching ranks. Not only has he learned from Bobby Knight, but Morris was an assistant coach at Clark County High School under Lake Kelly, former Oral Roberts and Austin Peay head coach and now part-time assistant at the University of Kentucky.

"Craig is a frequently sought-after camp instructor at a number of prestigious camps across the country," said Coach Martin.

"His many contacts with high school coaches will prove beneficial in recruiting."

Morris and his wife Joyce have two children, Kelli Jo, 4; and Kyle, 9 months.

Jack Upchurch Assistant Coach

Jack Upchurch begins his fourth year as assistant coach with the Morehead State basketball program. Upchurch has the official title of part-time coach, a position he held his first two years at MSU. His association with the program has helped in MSU's rise as an OVC power. Upchurch has been given the responsibility of coordinating the scouting duties and will work closely with the offensive game plan.

"Jack's return to the part-time position will enable us to take greater advantage of his experience and knowledge in all technical aspects of the teaching of basketball," said MSU head coach Wayne Martin.

"Without the time required for excess travel, he will be able to concentrate in this area."

Before coming to Morehead State, Upchurch spent 16 years as a high school coach. He coached six years at Anderson County High School, five years at Wayne County High School, and five years at Russell High School. He also coached a military team in Hawaii for three years.

His greatest achievement as a high school coach came in 1971, when he directed his Anderson County team to the final game of the Kentucky State Tournament. He was named "State Coach of the Year" by the Lexington Herald, the Louisville Courier-Journal, and the Kentucky High School Athletic Association after fashioning a 30-3 record.

As a high school coach, Upchurch has shaped the futures of several college players, including former University of Kentucky great Jimmy Dan Conner. Conner, a leader on the Anderson County state runner-up team, was voted a high school All-American while under Upchurch's tutelage.

Upchurch also enjoyed success as a player at Wayne County High School and Eastern Kentucky University. He was an honorable mention all-state selection three years at Wayne County, scoring more than 2,500 points in his high school career. He was named all-district four years.

Playing guard and forward at Eastern Kentucky he earned All-OVC honors one season. His playing experience also includes two years on an All-Army team.

Recipient of bachelor's and master's degrees from Eastern Kentucky University, Upchurch has been working on his Rank I degree at MSU.

"Kevin has been with the program six years. We feel extremely fortunate that he will remain with us for another year on our staff," said Martin. "He has been, and is a tremendous asset to our program."

A graduate of Lynch (Ky.) High School, Garriss was active in a number of sports until an ankle injury forced an end to his playing career. He was a regional golf champion and earned all-state honors in both football and basketball at Lynch.

Garriss is pursuing a master's degree in physical education at MSU.

Academic-Athletic Center

A New Tradition

The tradition begun in Wetherby Gymnasium is being continued by the Eagles in their new roost, the Academic-Athletic Center. In their old home, MSU's basketball teams posted an impressive .761 winning percentage over 25 seasons, with only two campaigns falling below the .500 mark.

Entering their fourth year of competition in the AAC, the Eagles have shown the move to a new home produces the same happy results that were enjoyed in older surroundings. After enjoying a 13-1 home record in the AAC's inaugural year, the winning continued in 1983 as the Eagles recorded an 11-2 mark while going 16-1 last year for a .909 winning percentage.

Ground for the new home of the Eagles was broken in the spring of 1978, with the athletic staff taking occupancy in June of 1981. The first university function held in the AAC was spring commencement on May 9, 1981. Since then, the 7,000-seat arena has played host to the likes of the Gatlin Brothers, Chicago, Jefferson Starship, and Alabama.

It also has been the site of district and regional boys' and girls' high school basketball tournaments.

The main arena can seat 7,000 with additional seating available for concert events. A hydraulic stage located at the east end of the arena can be raised up to six feet above floor level for conversion from a basketball floor to an auditorium platform.

The AAC houses offices for all athletic staff members except football, baseball, and soccer. Also located in the complex are a basketball weight room, a gymnastics room, a physiology laboratory, a VIP room for entertaining guests, sauna and steam rooms, and four concession areas.

A 300-seat swimming pool and diving area, also a part of the AAC, serves as the home for the Eagle swimmers. The area is equipped with an L-shaped pool and diving tank. An underwater viewing area allows coaches and instructors to watch students' swimming and diving techniques, and an underwater speaker system enables coaches to inform swimmers of necessary style changes immediately.

Morehead State University

Quality is the byword of Morehead State University as the institution begins its seventh decade of service. Founded in 1922 as a teacher's college, MSU became a university in 1966.

Nestled in the foothills of the Daniel Boone National Forest, Morehead State provides a learning and living environment for nearly 6,500 students and 900 faculty and staff members. The university's 500-acre campus features a 50-structure skyline dominated by the two tallest occupied structures in Eastern Kentucky, 19-story Cartmell Hall and 16-story Mignon Tower.

The university's six academic schools offer many programs of study from an associate degree to a joint doctoral program. Applied Sciences and Technology, Business and Economics, Education, Humanities, Sciences and Mathematics and Social Sciences comprise the academic schools.

MSU operates under a 10-member Board of Regents. Eight citizens are appointed by the governor of Kentucky and two seats are held by elected faculty and student representatives with full voting rights. The administrative structure consists primarily of four bureaus—academic affairs, fiscal affairs, university and regional services and student affairs.

Dr. Herb. F. Reinhard, Jr., became MSU's ninth president on July 1, 1984. A native of Covington, Ky., he came to Morehead State from Slippery Rock University in Pennsylvania.

Morehead State sponsors a full program of intercollegiate sports for men and women as members of the Ohio Valley Conference and National Collegiate Athletic Association. Athletic facilities include a 10,000-seat football stadium with an eight-lane oval track, a newly-completed 7,000-seat arena, a 1,200-seat baseball park, 14 all-weather tennis courts, a nine-hole golf course, an indoor swimming pool and a lighted soccer field.

NCAA Excitement

The last two years the Eagles have advanced to the NCAA Tournament. In that time MSU has rolled up 44 wins against 17 losses, including one regular season OVC championship and two OVC Tournament championships. Here is a game-by-game look at the last two seasons:

A Night to Remember

Most people are familiar with the movie title "The Shot Heard Around the World." Well, on March 13 at the opening round of the NCAA Tournament in Dayton, Ohio, Morehead State took part in a basketball game which received similar status due to a controversial decision made by the officials.

Not only did the Eagles prevail 70-69 over North Carolina A&T in one of the most exciting MSU victories of all time, but the next day sports fans across the nation were hearing about a controversial play that could have a big impact on all sports in the future.

In retrospect, Morehead State and North Carolina A&T were tied at 68 with 26 seconds left when MSU forward Earl Harrison fouled James Horace on an inbounds play. Harrison was called for an intentional foul, sending Horace to the line for two free throws. However, the officials started to put Eric Boyd at the free throw line. Quickly the MSU coaching staff alerted the referee that Horace was indeed the man fouled. So what was the big deal? Well, Boyd was shooting around 65 percent from the free throw line while Horace was connecting on just 51 percent.

In order to determine which Aggie should be at the stripe, official Mickey Crowley walked over to the crew of ESPN, which was televising the game, and asked for a replay. The video-tape replay clearly proved that Horace was the man fouled, not Boyd.

It marked the first time a referee had used instant replay in determining a game situation. Major networks across the country, including ABC commentator Paul Harvey, were telling people about it the next day.

By the way, Horace made just one of the two free throws, giving the Aggies a 69-68 lead and setting the stage for Guy Minnifield's heroics.

With four seconds remaining, the senior guard hit a jumper to put the Eagles ahead 70-69. Minnifield was fouled on the play, but missed the free throw, leaving MSU up by one point.

The Aggies let dead-eye Eric Boyd take the final shot, but his 20-footer over 6-11 Jeff Tipton was off the mark, and the Eagles advanced to the Mecca in Milwaukee, Wis.

It was certainly a night to remember.

Ohio Valley Conference

History

The idea of forming the Ohio Valley Conference was originated in 1941, but could not be implemented until after World War II. In 1948, five schools—Morehead State, Murray State, Western Kentucky, Eastern Kentucky, and Louisville — withdrew from the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and were joined by Evansville in forming the original membership of the OVC. They were joined shortly thereafter by Tennessee Tech and Marshall.

The membership has changed somewhat over the years. Middle Tennessee joined the league in 1952, East Tennessee in 1957, and Austin Peay in 1962. The trio of schools replaced Louisville, which became an independent in 1949, and Marshall and Evansville, which departed in 1952.

East Tennessee withdrew in 1978, making room for Akron and Youngstown State. Western Kentucky left the league in 1982.

In 1955, the National Collegiate Athletic Association formally recognized the OVC as a major basketball conference, awarding the league champion an automatic bid to the NCAA post-season tournament. At that time, the OVC was only the second six-team conference to obtain major status from the NCAA.

For many years, the OVC has been represented in the nation's top holiday and post-season basketball tournaments. The league has also won recognition for its football program, placing representatives in a number of post-season bowl games. The OVC has achieved national recognition in NCAA Division I-AA football with a national championship and two runner-up positions in the four years of its existence.

OVC champions also have been prominent on the national scene in baseball, riflery, tennis, track, golf and cross country.

James Delany, former NCAA investigator and graduate of North Carolina, operates as commissioner of the OVC. He is the OVC's fourth commissioner, following Art Guepe (1963-75), Paul Dietzel (1975-76) and Bob Vanatta (1976-79).
